Dear Dr. McAllister:

I once again want to thank you very much for your generous support of our FASEB Summer Research Conference on Cellular and Molecular Studies in Bone Marrow Transplantation. The conference was just held (July 16-21, 1989, Saxtons River, Vermont) and I am pleased to say was quite successful. We were able to bring together investigators who are all at the forefront of their respective fields for the conference with both these senior investigators and some of the more junior investigators attending able to meet together in informal settings and establish new collaborations for their work. This was of course possible only because of your very generous support.

Again, thank you very much for allowing this unique gathering of basic and clinical scientists to take place.

Sincerely,

Brian R. Smith, M.D.
Associate Professor of Laboratory Medicine,
Internal Medicine and Pediatrics
